Then try this one with your Echo device.Escape the RoomAbout this SkillUPDATE: We've added a new room! Check out and try to escape from our new room, the Garage. Stay tuned for more rooms, and a Garage walkthrough comingsoon! You are trapped in a room. It's up to you and only you to escape. Search your room, pick up items, and solve puzzles to find your way out. There are three rooms to choose from and more being added. The skill will track your stats and how fast you complete each room. The rooms in relative order of difficulty are: Jail Cell - Easiest Office - Medium Car - Hardest To play the game you have three basic actions (plus some more contextual commands you'll find out in the game) Sticking to these commands is the key to having the game work smoothly: Look {Direction} Inspect/Look at/use {Object} Use {Item} on {Object} Remember --- To inspect/look at/use an object, or use an item on an object, you must first be looking in the direction where you saw that object first. Other useful commands are: Help - can remind you what you can do at that point in time Inventory - reminds you what items you have Stats - will let you know how many times and how fast you completed each room Once you master the commands it is important to note that once alexa starts speaking, you can just say, "Alexa", and then your next command, without waiting for her to finish speaking. This is very useful when you are exploring through parts of the room that you have seen already and don't need to wait for the full descriptions again If you happen to get stuck, don't worry. It is a pretty hard game to solve. Think about all the clues you have and all the items you have picked up. If you still can't seem to solve the rooms don't be discouraged. We offer walkthroughs for each of the rooms which you can refer to help you escape! Walkthroughs: Jail Cell: Car: Coming Soon! Please leave a nice review if you like the game. We really appreciate it and it help encourage us to keep working on great free skills for you. Any questions or support can be emailed to support@... If you get stuck then please take a look at the walkthroughs so you can play through the game before leaving a 1* review saying the game was too hard. The Gateway To Independence This article is a stub. You can help by expanding it! Crime and Jail The following actions are considered crimes and are reported if you are detected: Stealing items or horses Pickpocketing items Trespassing (not leaving an area when you have been told you should not be there) Picking a lock Starting a fight (defending yourself is not a crime) Killing a non-aggressive character When a crime is reported, a Bounty is placed on your head for the Hold you are in. The amount of that Bounty depends on the seriousness of the crime. Anyone that sees you commit a crime will become a witness. If you manage to eliminate all of the witnesses to a crime shortly after it has been committed, the Bounty will not take effect. When you have a bounty, guards will approach and arrest you. If you run, they'll come after you. If you escape to a different Hold where you do not have a Bounty, the guards there will ignore you. If caught by the guards, you typically have the following options: Pay your Bounty. Any stolen items in your inventory will be confiscated, including items you stole while undetected, but you are otherwise free to go. Go to Jail. After being sent to jail, you can attempt to pick the lock of your jail cell and escape. To serve your time, activate the bed in your cell and will appear outside when your time is served. You will lose progress towards skill increases depending on how long your sentence is. Resist arrest. Guards will attack you if you resist. If you escape, the Bounty will remain on your head, and guards will try to arrest you if you return. If you yield by sheathing your weapon, the guards may stop attacking, but will still attempt to arrest you. Each major city in Skyrim has its own jail. The Escape the Room skill is just like the real-life version. You are trapped in a room, and it's up to you to escape. Search your room, pick up items, and solve puzzles to find your way out. There are multiple rooms to choose from, with more being added regularly. You activate the skill by talking to any Alexa speaker and saying Alexa, open Escape the Room. At that point, the game kicks into action, and Alexa briefs you on what you can say to control the game. There are five rooms to choose from and more being added. The rooms in relative order of difficulty are: Jail Cell Easiest Office Medium Car Hard Garage Hard (Premium) Spaceship (Premium Multi-Level) Airplane (Premium, Three Rooms in One!) You should enter the code 0390 into the safe and find the final key! Using the key you can now look forward, use the key on the door, and escape to freedom. Congratulations you've escaped. UPDATE: We've added a new room! Check out and try to escape from our new room, the Garage. Stay tuned for more rooms, and a Garage walkthrough coming soon! You are trapped in a room.
