Predicted Reliability: 2015 Models

This graph shows how the makes rank based on average predicted reliability scores, and which models by each make have the highest and lowest ratings. The score is the overall reliability calculated as a percentage better or worse than the average for all cars. The rank order change from our 2014 survey compared with last year's is noted as well. Large changes are highlighted.

Ă This, when combined with the poor reliability performance of the QX60 SUV, was enough to lower the reliability of the InfinitiĂs from 14 points to the 20th global dropĂe the lowest of any of the 28 brands this year. Lincoln has joined Hyundai and Cadillac as the brands that have improved their ranking the most. They are the new half-ton pickup less reliable in our inquerid©. The first-year models of the Infiniti, Jeep, Fiat, Ram, Cadillac, Ford, and Honda saw significant problem rates due to bugs and infotainment failures. BMW seems to have addressed the problems it had with fuel pumps on some of its old six-cylinder turbo models. Not all GM news is good news, although the new Chevrolet Silverado/GMC Sierra pickup is a child problem for the company, suffering from many early bugs. Of the 17 problems that cr asks in its opinion, the category that includes the automotive electronics generated more complaints from the owners of 2014 models than for©any other category. The Ram 1500 also ©m fallered, contributing to the landslide of seven RAMĂs places to the 26th. All other U.S. brands finished in the bottom half of the brand rankings. For the second consecutive year, GM is the most reliable gift car company. Using its more than 50 laboratories, automated testing center and research research center, the non-profit organization records thousands of products and services annually. Buick is the best brand giftĂ© stica, with each of its models being reliable. And vice versa. Consumer Reports There is not enough data in 248 models to predict which new cars are likely to be reliable or problematic, as well as provide insights and positions ŷ major brands and spot trends. Audi, a brand previously plagued by problems held firm and fell in the top five for the second consecutive year. Mercedes-Benz was the only European brand to decline significantly in the Consumer Reports 2014Ă Adragged down eleven places by the recĂ ©m-introduced Sedan CLA and the redesigned top-of-the-range S-Class. MercedesĂA the best reliability performances were the popular E-Class V6 sedan and the small GLK SUVĂ ĂĂ Signs of life in the 'new' GM Look at alĂ© m of the almost daily safety recall dam. Common problems of previous CR searches include touch-sensitive screens with no response or a reluctance to pair phones. The survey is the largest of its kind; the 2014 edition generated information ŷ about 1.1 million views. When introduced, the Ford 2011 had a complaint rate of 10% infitcenment and reached the peak of 28%. In addition, the Porsche, Volvo and BMW marks also ended in the upper half of the CLASSIFICATIONS. Lexus and Toyota remain on the front once more, Toyota's lexus lexus brand proved to be the most reliable brand in general with Toyota to stay second. Founded in 1936, Consumer Reports has more than 8 million subscribers of your magazine, website and other publications. Buick was the only domestic brand to end in the top 10, and passed to the 6th place from the 16th place last year. The Chevrolet Sonic and Cruze, the Ford Fiesta and Focus, and the Dardge Dart's Turbo Version are all below the mother. The newly redesigned Chevrolet Silverado / GMC Sierra 1500 is showing many . This is worth because we really enjoy driving these models. See the container feed of the chrols on twitter in @Crcars. More than one in five owners reported a problem with her. Hyundai rose eight places, ending in 13th place. Although hardly exempt from problems, updates and changes to the MYTOGH systems of Ford and LincolnĂ e S have become less problematic year after year. Nissan continues to get behind from other Japanese brands with central models such as the Altima, Pathfinder, and Sentra, all with scores below the reliability of the mother. The worst info-entertainment offender of this year's first year of this year was the Intouch system in the new Sedan Infiniti Q50. New Important Products e Including Cadillac CTS, Chevrolet Corvette, and Chevrolet Impala V6 have proven to be trusted in your first year. This year, Lincoln rose 12 points, ending in 15th place, with four models including the reliable MKZ Sedan Percuement and only two models below the mother. Kia rose to the 10th place, with all models to have a few days or better scores. With an exception of Infiniti, most of the Japanese and Korean brands improved their dial-day reliability.
