DATAMAN 8072DL HANDHELD BARCODE READER

Advanced image formation for direct part mark (DPM) codes

The Dataman® 8072 DPM Line DL handheld barcode reader delivers powerful barcode reading performance for tough DPM codes on flat, highly reflective surfaces. It features the latest patented technology and advanced lighting and optics, used for automotive, aerospace, and medical device industry applications.

Patented algorithms deliver powerful barcode reading performance
 Cognex® 8072DL handheld barcode readers are optimized with patented algorithms and technologies to read DPM, as well as 1-D and 2-D standard barcodes, in the most demanding industrial environments.

3DMax™ with PowerScan™ technology is a breakthrough 3-D scanning algorithm, designed to read 2-D codes with significant damage to or complete elimination of a code's finder pattern, crossing pattern, or quiet zone.

Half-powered lighting provides advanced image formation
 The Dataman® 8072DL is a standard-range barcode reader that delivers codes from up to 10' (3 meters) (2' when used in close proximity) with half-powered lighting which illuminates codes on flat, highly reflective surfaces to acquire optimal code images.

Robust, modular communications and ease-of-use
 With the Dataman 8072DL handheld barcode reader, no configuration or adjustments are necessary. Codes can be read from a distance without angling the code to gain perspective. Modem communication modules readily integrate with factory networks, allowing each reader to be configured to meet specific communication needs. Other RS-232, USB, and Ethernet options, as well as a wireless Bluetooth option, are available for Dataman 8072DL handheld barcode readers.

The USB-C port connects to straight or angled cables to the right for flexible configuration. Flexible configuration options with flexible formability and powerful optical lens create high-contrast and slow images of low or slow moving or high-speed applications. Dataman's barcode readers are optimized with patented algorithms to ensure consistent high read rates of 1D and 2D codes in the most challenging label identification applications.
