The closer to the middle of the sun that your hammer lands, the more points you get and the more "health" you remove from the sun. If you land your hammer directly in the middle of the sun, then you get 1,000 points and take away ten "hearts" (see below). Otherwise, if your hammer lands somewhere else on the sun, then you get a lower amount of points and take away fewer "hearts".HeartsIf you lose 10 hearts of "hearts", then the sun will explode and the game will be over. You can also see your current attempts at destroying the sun by looking at the timer at the top-center of the screen. The slower it is, though, so this isn't always a good indicator of how close to defeating the sun you are.Upgrade Your HammerThe only way to "upgrade" your hammer is to kill many space dragons who are hanging out in their space lairs just below the sun.
